Secondary Fracture Prevention Program Initiative

The Australian and New Zealand Bone and Mineral Society (ANZBMS) Secondary Fracture Prevention (SFP) Program Initiative aims to prevent people who suffer fragility fractures today from suffering subsequent fractures in the future.

SFP Programs in Australia and many other countries have been shown to reduce re-fracture rates in a highly cost-effective fashion.

The suite of resources provided on this web page provide healthcare professionals, health administrators and policymakers with all the support needed to implement SFP Programs across Australia.

Note: Many thanks to Osteoporosis Canada who gave us permission to follow the layout of their SFP.
